Suggestions for improvement

The survey reveals that the curriculum is good enough as a higher education option. The coverage of the courses, subjects and the contents are good. A few concerns came up are on the effectiveness of the curriculum in enabling the students in pursuing higher education abroad and in narrowing down the gap between industry and academia. Overall, the students and the rest of the stakeholders are very positive to various aspects of curriculum, teaching, learning and evaluation. Still the fewer shares of responses in strongly agree category hints at the scope for further improvements in some of the aspects included.

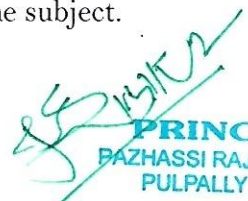

- The analysis hints at the need for enriching the curriculum by adding skill areas and the updated knowledge.
- Possible improvement/change can be there in the curriculum on open courses, ample credits for extension activities and the proportion of marks for internal assessment.
- Industry academia collaboration can be enhanced
- Job oriented programmes can be incorporated while course delivery is going on.
- Need to fill the knowledge gap of entry level students

Actions Taken

- The departments started more certificate courses taking into consideration of the gaps in the new curriculum designed by the university last year.
- Skill oriented certificate courses are started by departments/clubs/associations.
- Departments that have professional courses undertook measures to link the students with the industry, through multiple measures, like online industry-academia interface, Meet the Industry Expert programmes (online), etc.
- College has written to the University indicating the need for revamping the Open courses and considering credits for extension activities
- Decided to start bridge course in order to create familiarity with the subject.
