56) Best Practices

Describe the Best Practices of the College (AnyTwo)
Pazhassiraja College; as part of its social commitment, ensuring experiential learning opportunities for the students and in enhancing the sense of social integrity among them, initiated varied programmes, of which the following are considered two best practices.

1.Awareness creation and solving agricultural problems of neighboring community through a programme titled “SAMRIDHI”

2.‘PRABODHAN’: Tribal empowerment and upliftment through education

Samridhi is a multi-dimensional programme was designed to revive the lost prosperity of Wayanad in the field of Agriculture. The following are the specific objectives. 1.To identify arable and fallow lands in and around the college to practice agriculture 2. To create awareness among the people to take-up and enhance rice cultivation. 3. To harness the aids/schemes offered by the Krishibhavans, local self government bodies and other governmental organizations to empower agriculture. 4. To function as a platform for immediate knowledge and technical support.

The primary target group of the programme was the youth in and around the college. And encourage wetland conservation The team identified wetland rice fallows around the college and as a pilot initiative, an area of one hectare was selected for paddy cultivation encompassing the traditional and indigenous ways of wetland cultivation. A renowned germplasm conservator Sri. Cheruvayal Raman was invited to orient and motivate the team of youngsters. The practice started by selecting an area of one hectare rice wetland and also an area of one hectare within the college campus. Apart from paddy cultivation, the team of skilled youth cultivated banana in one acre of land and different vegetables in 1.5 acres of land.

PRABODHAN’: Tribal empowerment and upliftment through education

A multi-pronged programme was envisaged with the ultimate objective of enabling the youngsters belonging to the tribal and other marginalised societies in and around the college to tap the higher education opportunities and to get suitable careers. The following are the specific objectives. 1.To identify the local tribal societies that need support for finding higher education and career options. 2. To find out the support needed for the tribal students to pursue higher education and career opportunities. 3. To implement programmes for awareness creation, empowerment and motivation for targeting higher education. 4. To act as a facilitation centre for academic and career affairs that can be easily accessed by the people belonging to the marginalised sections around the college.

Our college is situated in an area consisting of a significant share of tribal populations. A large number of tribal colonies are there in this region. Those who have completed the 10th class or higher levels are targeted to impart various learning or awareness programmes. Awareness programmes are envisaged to conduct in the locations as well in the college as per the need. The college opened a facilitation and counselling centre near the main entrance of the college. This centre can be accessed by the needed aspirants during the working hours. This innovative initiative has been taking place for the last few years. Initially, classes were focused on tribal colonies. Classes were arranged with the help of the Grama Panchayath ward members and tribal activity coordinators over there. Also ensured to have regular interaction with the audience from those colonies.

57) Distinctiveness

Distinctiveness of the college

Title: Institutional Distinctiveness in Social Commitment

In striving for comprehensive development in marginalized societies, our institution pioneers diverse extension and outreach initiatives focusing on health, literacy, higher education, and social commitment. With a socially responsible mission, we embark on four major initiatives: (1) Environmental Sustainability, (2) Social Responsibility and Commitment, (4) Community Upliftment, and (4) Heritage Preservation.

Our Environmental Sustainability Initiatives instill in students the crucial importance of conservation through practices like the 'Green Campus Clean Campus' campaign and tree plantation drives, engaging both college units and external organizations.

Under Social Responsibility and Commitment, students participate in hair donation, blood donation, and charity fundraising activities, fostering a sense of duty toward society.

Community Upliftment Initiatives include visits to old age homes, tribal colonies, and organizing medical camps, addressing pressing community needs. Also, students participated in the Akshaya Big Campaign for Document Digitalization camp for tribal people organized by the district administration in association with the Tribal Development department.

Heritage Preservation and Restoration Initiatives led by our History Department aim to conserve regional heritage through museum facilities accessible to researchers, students, and the public. Archaeological artifacts and items related to the tribal and agricultural heritage of this region have been preserved in this Wayanad Heritage Museum.

Through these initiatives, our institution empowers students to actively engage in societal betterment, recognizing education as a catalyst for socio-economic progress in marginalized communities.

58) Green Initiatives of the College

Tree Plantation

The college is giving utmost importance to make the institution a green campus. The NCC students of the college planted 200 tree saplings as a part of Independence Day celebration in the college in the academic year 2022-23. The Bhoomitrasena club of the college has not only maintained the existing trees they have already planted but also planted new trees in the college. As a part of the National Service Scheme activities of the college both units planted 150 trees in the campus on the occasion of World Environment Day. They have donated tree saplings to the students of the St. George UP School, Pulpally

Alternate Energy initiatives

College effectively utilizes the alternative energy sources. The college has established its own solar plant way back in 2013 and it is still being utilized.. Rooftop solar panels were installed in the college building rooftops as an initiative to reduce energy consumption on the campus and also to promote the use of renewable sources of energy. The panels were installed as a part of a ‘Solar Rooftop Programme’ started by the Kerala State Electricity Board. A 75 kWp solar panel is established to reduce dependency on power-grid electricity. They have aimed to produce 9000 units of electricity monthly from the solar panels. 10% of the total electricity produced can be used by the college free of cost. Moreover, the girls hostel of the college has a Biogas plant and the biogas generated from it is utilized for cooking purposes. Also the college has solar powered lights in the front side of the building.

Energy Conservation initiatives

Conservation of energy is an important aspect in creating a sustainable campus, which is also linked to the carbon footprint of the campus. The college practices various energy management activities, one such activity is the use of solar-generated electricity in the college. LED bulbs are used to minimize the electricity used. Biogas stoves are used in hostel kitchens instead of LPG gas for minimizing energy use.

Rain Water Harvesting

A rainwater harvesting system is set up on the campus. The rainwater coming from rooftops is collected in the water tanks constructed on the campus. The open well in the campus is recharged by both groundwater and rainwater. Four rainwater harvesting tanks are constructed on the campus each with a capacity of 1 lakh liters, 15000 liters, 5000 liters, and 25,000 liters. The water thus collected through rainwater tanks is then used for watering the plants in the garden and also other activities.

Waste Management

Pazhassiraja College always gives emphasis on reducing the waste material and its proper disposal in the campus through the viewpoint of three ``R's'' of sustainability: reduce, reuse and recycle. An integrated approach is adopted for the disposal of the waste in the college campus. The College in association with 'Bhoomitra Sena', NSS, Science club and NCC, the generated waste is separated to solid, liquid and e-waste and they are effectively disposed of by the college to make the campus clean and healthy. There are different ways adopted by the college to manage these wastes. They include the following:

Biodegradable waste

As part of its commitment towards the society and promoting environmental consciousness, the college has a composting facility for the treatment of biodegradable waste generated in the college, Agricultural waste, Science lab waste, Kitchen waste from the canteen are converted to compost with the firm Endeavour of promoting recycling of waste, and the manure is utilized in the campus garden, as well as in the vegetable garden. Students are made aware of sustainable agricultural practices by the organic farming practices of the college. The staff and students encourage this Endeavour by purchasing the organic products produced in the campus.

Biogas plant

The college has created a biogas plant in the hostel premises which can produce biogas from the food waste. The food waste from all around the campus, mainly from the hostel, is transferred to the biogas plant built in the hostel compound. The gas produced from the biogas plants is used for cooking purposes.

Plastic waste

The plastic waste from the campus is collected using separate waste bins placed at different locations in the campus. College associates with the Pulpally Grama panchayath in plastic waste handling. Plastic bottle collection bins are there in the campus established by the Panchayath authorities. The collected plastic waste is handed over to them for further recycling by the authorities. Used pen collection bins are also there, which are also handed over to the authorities separately for reusing them.

Liquid Waste

Judicious use of water is ensured in the campus. Maintenance of plumbing is taken care of by a full time plumber in the campus, which helps in minimizing water waste. In order to ensure efficient usage of water and less water wastage B.Voc department installed drip irrigation unit. Most of the liquid waste except that from the sewage and laboratories is managed and reused. Purifiers for potable water have been installed in every block to avoid the use of single use plastic water bottles.

Bio-waste from Laboratories

Microbiology lab generates large microbial waste and the same is treated by the decontamination process. The treated material is further added to the compost pit to make compost.

E-waste

Use of online data transfer reduces the use of CD/DVD, pen drives and other storage devices. To reduce e-waste Old computers and monitors are sold as scrap. Old batteries are recycled, recharged or exchanged for better ones. E-waste corner has been set up in the computer lab where the college e-waste is collected from time to time. The collected e-waste is sold to the proper agency for recycling; The College has collaborated with M/s S M Soft, Sulthan Bathery, for the maintenance of electronic equipment.

Incinerator

An incinerator is installed in the girls common room which provides a sanitized and technical disposal of waste. Sanitary waste disposal is effectively done by it

Plastic free Initiatives

Inorder to ensure plastic free campus, The plastic waste from the campus is regularly collected by using separate waste bins placed at different locations in the campus. College associates with the Pulpally Grama panchayath in plastic waste handling. Plastic bottle collection bins are there in the campus established by the Panchayath authorities. The collected plastic waste is handed over to them for further recycling by the authorities. Used pen collection bins are also there, which are also handed over to the authorities separately for reusing them.

Promoting Public transportation

College doesn't have a public transportation facility because the location is connected well with other parts of the district.

Any other- Air quality

For life to exist on earth, the air is essential. Along with water, the air is most often polluted by humans. The air quality on the campus appears to be very good. Trees help to maintain good air quality. Trees are planted in the front and backside of the college. The roadsides are all covered with plants and trees aiding for good air quality.

Scientific waste management awareness programmes and initiatives

The college organized various programmes such as plastic free campus campaign, recycling plastic campaign and awareness classes on world environment day paper bag making, paper-pen making etc., Bhoomitra Sena organizes vocational training programmes for cloth bag and cloth banner production. Our college has placed 'eco friendly campus' boards in the campus. As part of the Suchitwa Mission initiative, the college ensures the green protocol in the various programs of the college. 'Suchitwa vaaram'-District level inauguration programme was organized in the college and the activities were continued till the Declaration of college as green campus. The Department of Microbiology organized a 'profit from plastic' a plastic reuse competition for the nearby school students as a science day programme to impart the message 'reduce plastic pollution'.

Attempt has been done to minimize the paper use within the college. Office automation and use of public addressing systems helps to reduce various forms of solid waste in the campus. Using ICT inside the classroom and circulation of study materials and information through mail has considerably reduced paper waste. Majority of the teachers are receiving Online submissions of assignments from students to reduce the generation of paper waste. Whatever cannot be handled within the campus is handed over to the scrap dealer.
